

Experience PCIA

Trudy Thornsberry
Vice President of Operations

“Clayton & McKervey has developed a niche serving privately held companies who conduct business globally. We enjoy the challenge of meeting the diverse accounting, tax and business advisory needs of our clients, and embrace client service as a priority.”

“This orientation aligns perfectly with the client service philosophy that we have experienced working with Professional Concepts Insurance Agency (PCIA). PCIA’s staff is down-to-earth and extremely responsive. I ask a lot of questions when it comes to our insurance, and Mike Cosgrove, PCIA’s president, is extremely patient and helpful.”

“I believe that PCIA’s focus on professional firms is a tremendous benefit to us. We experience the same business challenges and manage similar business issues. But it always comes down to the people. PCIA provides excellent guidance that makes me extremely comfortable with my decisions. I feel that I am getting excellent advice from some of the best in the industry.”
